Secret Reports On Bombs Given To Eisenhower

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower was back at the summer White House today with a top secret report on how the United States learned about Soviet Union tests indicating Russia may have the hydrogen bomb.

Eisenhower had no comment on the Moscow newspaper Pravda's statement Wednesday night that Russia recently touched off a hydrogen bomb explosion.

Best Defense Program

Eisenhower returned to his vacation headquarters here by plane Wednesday night from New York.

There, at the dedication of a housing project, he declared that families with a proper and decent living standard constitute a better defense against communism than "any bomb of whatever kind."

"That is the kind of thing that will preserve this nation," the Chief Executive said in a brief speech at the dedication ceremony.

There is no doubt now that Eisenhower made his remark about defense against any kind of bomb after receiving a secret report on the Soviet tests.

Greeted By Million

When he arrived in New York Wednesday morning, the President's first business was an unscheduled breakfast conference with Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, and C. D. Jackson, White House adviser on psychological warfare.

Those two officials apparently amplified information which almost certainly had been furnished to Eisenhower here Aug. 12, the day the Soviet tests took place.

In traveling through the city Eisenhower was greeted by enthusiastic crowds reminiscent of last fall's presidential campaign. Chief Police Inspector Conrad Rothenbach estimated a million persons were along the four-mile route from the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel to the Housing project on the lower East Side.

Canada Proves Rough For Marilyn Monroe

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Marilyn Monroe is finding Canada rugged.

The actress was injured in a fall Wednesday for the second time in a week while working in a movie near Jasper, Alta. Her studio, 20th Century-Fox, said she suffered torn ligaments in her left leg.

Production on the film, "River of No Return," has been halted. The studio sent Dr. Robert Rosenfeld to Jasper by plane to attend the actress.

Mobs Fight In Iran; Royalists Announce Mossadegh Capture

LONDON (AP) — The royalist-controlled Tehran radio today announced capture of ousted Premier Mohammed Mossadegh but said new street fighting with Mossadegh's supporters broke out in the capital.

Earlier dispatches from Tehran said the new Premier, Maj. Gen. Fazlollah Zahedi had given the 24 hours to search for Fatemi.

The announcement of Mossadegh's capture gave no details beyond saying that the aged, ailing former Premier, his wife and children were removed from the Iranian capital under the protection of the new pro-Shah government.

Gen. Zahedi said the Shah had instructed him to prevent Mossadegh being lynched by the street crowds. Zahedi added that Mossadegh would stand public trial.

"We will wait for the nation to say what should be done with him," Zahedi said.

Anything Can Happen
Whereabouts of Mossadegh was not disclosed.

Soviet Round Table Peace Talk Spurned By Western Nations

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The major Western nations turned a cold shoulder in the U.N. today to some talk of compromising East-West differences over the makeup of the Korean peace conference.

Russia's position, as partly set forth by Andrei Y. Vishinsky Wednesday, already had drawn a quick rejection from Chief U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr.

No Watering Down
An aide said Vishinsky might take the floor for further explanations today after the debate resumes in the 60-nation General Assembly Political Committee.

First on the speakers' list today were Czechoslovakia, a Soviet satellite and one of the members of the Prisoner of War Repatriation Commission, and Turkey, which had troops under the U.N. banner in Korea.

A host of small countries were expected to follow them. Some already were hinting at possibilities of a compromise, but one Western spokesman said he could see no need for any further "watering-down" in the conference lineup proposed by three resolutions put forward by various groupings of the 16 Allies under the U.N. banner.

These would invite the 16 U.N. nations on the world organization's

NEW YORK (AP) — President Eisenhower registered Wednesday and applied for an absentee ballot so he can vote in the city's mayoral election in November.

After Eisenhower signed his name to the necessary papers, a reporter inquired: "Mr. President, will you tell us how you're going to vote."

The President replied: "How do you think?"

Giant Bomber Blows Up Over Arizona Desert; 12 Jump Into Darkness

PICACHO, Ariz. (AP) — A giant B50 bomber was shattered by a tremendous explosion over the Arizona desert early today and plunged to the ground in flames.

The 12-man crew of the four-engine ship parachuted into the darkness and came down in the rocky, cactus and mesquite-covered wasteland near towering Picacho Peak.

They were apparently badly mauled by the impact.

The Pinal County sheriff's office at Florence, some 25 miles to the north, reported that many were severely injured and one had died at the scene.

Country Lighted Up

Ambulances were rushing two of the critically hurt airmen to Hoemak Hospital at Casa Grande. Doctors sped to the scene with a ground rescue team from Davis-Monthan Air Force Base at Tucson where the crew was stationed.

More doctors are on their way. Glen Hathcock, policeman from Eloy, Ariz., was an eyewitness to the spectacular crash. He was sitting in a patrol car with another officer.

"I looked up and a big light seemed to be coming toward us," he said. "All at once it started falling."

"I shouted, 'It's going to crash!'

"A second later it exploded. It lit up the whole country. You could have read a paper by it."

Hathcock said the plane veered to the left and fell off in a sloping dive toward the ground.

"When it hit flames leaped hundreds of feet into the air," he said. "It looked like an atomic bomb."

Debris Scattered

Pinal County sheriff deputies fixed the crash scene as midway between Phoenix and Tucson.

Nine of the crew members were

DETROIT (AP) — Police held Mrs. Katherine Flynn, 49, for investigation of murder today after she told of shooting her husband as he drank a cup of coffee.

Her husband, William, 43, died a short time later in Atchinson Hospital at Northville.

The couple had been married 28 years. Police said they had been called to the Flynn apartment several times in the last few weeks to settle family quarrels.

Mrs. Flynn walked into a hospital a block from her home Wednesday and told the receptionist, "My husband's been shot." Then she notified Northville police.

She said she had bought the gun at a hardware store, and the saleswoman showed her how to load it and fire it.

This morning I accused my husband of running around with this girl ... He said that he had papers to commit me to an institution ... I got the gun from the hall closet ... loaded it in front of him ... pointed it at him. It went off," she said.

"I didn't mean to kill him, I am ready to take my punishment. You can hang me if you want to," she added.

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A walkout against the six-state Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. began today after union representatives rejected a company offer minutes before the strike deadline.

The final rejection came after all-night negotiating sessions with union and company officials meeting independently and jointly with federal and state conciliators.

Wages have been the issue.

Southwestern Bell operates in

Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas,

Arkansas and a part of Illinois.

Approximately 53,000 union members are involved.

The company offered wage increases ranging from $1 to $3 weekly, and offered to reclassify for wage purposes 11 cities and towns. This upward revision would give some top-pay employees a maximum increase of $8 a week and lower paid employees a top of $5 a week.

Bridge Collapse Lawsuit Heard

LANSING (AP) — A $100,000 damage suit involving the collapse of a bridge five years ago at Berrill Springs was being heard in Circuit Court here today.

The State Highway Department is suing the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., the Reliable Cartage Co. of Grand Rapids and Harm Boomstra of Belmont, listed as driver of the cartage company truck.

The suit claims that Boomstra, driving on US-31 on April 23, 1948, struck one end of the bridge crossing the St. Joseph River at Berrill Springs.

The suit claims the collision collapsed the bridge, also throwing the truck into the river.

The defendants are being sued jointly by the state for the $100,000 to cover damage to the bridge, cost of erecting a temporary span and the cost of building a new bridge to replace the old one, dating back to 1904. Negligence is charged.

Circuit Judge Marvin J. Salmon, who is hearing the suit, is not expected to hand down a decision for several months.

The President replied: "How do you think?"

Teachers Donate

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — Some 36,000 Michigan school teachers may contribute $1 apiece to build a new library for the tornado-destroyed Beecher High School in Flint. The plan was approved Wednesday by district officers of the Michigan Educational Association (MEA). It is now before the board of directors.

Russia Boasts About Explosion Of H-Bomb; 2 Years Behind U. S.

MOSCOW (AP) — The Russians announced today that they have exploded a test hydrogen bomb of "great strength." They coupled their claim with a new call for international acceptance of a Russian disarmament plan including a ban on atomic weapons.

(In Washington, the Atomic Energy Commission confirmed that it had information on a Soviet "hell-bomb" test conducted by the Aug. 12 but implied that the United States had produced similar reactions in the 1951 and 1952 tests at Eniwetok Atoll.)

Only Routine Item

This was the official Soviet announcement, as reported in the Communist party newspaper Pravda and broadcast by the Moscow radio to the Soviet people:

"Recently in the Soviet Union, the explosion of a type of hydrogen bomb was carried to experimental aim. As a result of the possession of the mighty power to thermonuclear fission in the hydrogen bomb, the explosion was of great strength."

"The test showed the power of the hydrogen bomb is many times greater than the power of atomic bombs."

The company offered wage increases ranging from $1 to $3 weekly, and offered to reclassify for wage purposes 11 cities and towns. This upward revision would give some top-pay employees a maximum increase of $8 a week and lower paid employees a top of $5 a week.

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Two alert scouts officers, D. C. Mossheart and P. E. Ming, spotted a flickering light in the early morning hours and radioed for help.

Hospital Ship Sails
The hospital ship Haven, with 104 disabled U. S. repatriates aboard, sailed from Inchon in South Korea for Japan. There it will load more Korean War sick and injured and continue to the United States, where it is due about Sept. 14.

The transport Marine Adder will leave Inchon Saturday with 400 able-bodied U. S. repatriates. The nonstop trip to the United States will take about two weeks.

And the transport Gen. Nelson M. Walker is due in San Francisco Sunday morning with the first shipload of 328 former prisoners on their way home.

Other former POWs—seriously ill—have been flown back to the United States.

Council Okays Supplies Bids

Escanaba City Council in meeting last night accepted bids submitted to furnish the city with a variety of supplies and equipment ranging from stoker coal to electric meters.

Phoenix Lumber & Supply Company's bid of $12.93 per ton for 100 tons of stoker coal was the lowest of three received and was accepted.

Alabama Pipe Company, Chicago, was low with $10,059 in bids on water pipe, and James B. Clow & Sons, Chicago, was low with $325.82 for fittings.

Delta Hardware Company's bid of $13.25 each for 96 electric meters of one type was accepted as low, since it was the same as five others for that type equipment; and Westinghouse bid of $28.49 for 144 meters of another type was accepted as low.

Buy Three Trucks

City Manager A. V. Aronson was authorized to investigate a bid of the City of Norway to supply the city with 2,440 pounds of wire for the electric department. Its bid of $707.60, although low, was for used wire of slightly heavier gauge. If the manager determines the used wire to be satisfactory it will be purchased.

Hessey Manufacturing Company, Chicago, was low with a bid of $1,759.77 to supply the city with five types of water meters and the bid was accepted by the Council.

Northern Motor Company's bids of $1,324.83 for a one-and-one-half ton truck, and $4,115.46 for a heavy duty truck, were low and were accepted; while Escanaba Machine Company was low bidder for a three-quarter ton truck at $1,200. The prices are net and include tradeins.

Complete Machinery Company, Long Island, N. Y., was low bidder to supply the city with well-point equipment at a price of $2,765.33.

Table Radio Bids

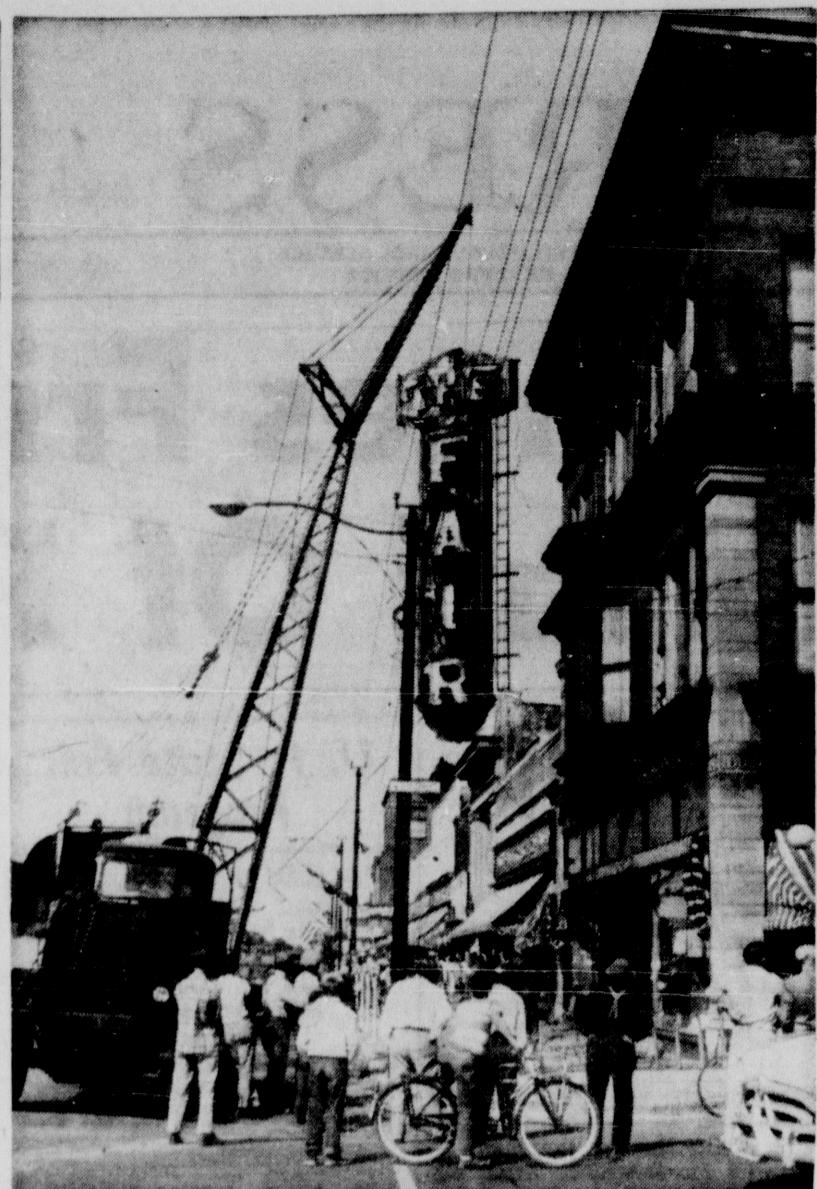

Following reports and recommendations by the city manager, the Council accepted as low bids those of the Champion Company to supply the city with street lights and the Delta Hardware Company to supply street light poles at a total price of $2,079.72. The bids were opened at a previous meeting. The lights are for extension of street lighting on Ludington westward.

The Council asked for more information and tabled bids received to supply the city with radio transmitter and receiving equipment for two-way communication system for city electric department trucks. The low bid was by Bendix at $1,326 for the proposed installation.

Doubt was expressed by the Council that such a communication system was necessary for the electric department. The city manager recommended the system to increase efficiency.

REASON FOR NAMES

Scientific names of animals frequently seem cumbersome and hard to pronounce, and most difficult to remember, but they prevent the confusing of one creature with another.

Quality High In Art Dept.

The fine arts department located in its usual spot on the third floor of the exhibition building at the Fair is showing results of increased interest in painting in the Upper Peninsula in the improved quality of the work entered. The better quality was such that Robert Bishop, judge of the department, remarked on the difficulty of selecting the prize winners.

It is also noticeable that the artists are using a greater variety of methods and techniques. While many are continuing to use the more traditional methods, some have produced interesting effects in modern experimental techniques. Typifying the latter are a group of people, mostly from the Marquette area, who studied under Aaron Brohod at Northern Michigan College of Education during summer term and several younger members of the senior group presently enrolled in other art schools.

Some of the Marquette group are showing work in mixed media such as a combination of wax-resist with colored ink washes, casein and water color and scratch (scratch work). Others confine themselves to using one medium such as water color or oil. A member of this group, Mrs. Maude Kronquist, Ishpeming, a former Ensign township resident, is represented by a water color and an oil, both of which took first prizes in the senior section. The oil is called "Short Cut"—a street scene. The water color is a scene of houses and trees. Both pictures are very strong and brilliant.

Local Artists Show Work

A number of local artists have their work in the senior section of the show. Two oils by Mrs. Paula Perkins are, "Up Ford River," a glowing scene with water and birches, also "Mitchell's Willows," which shows willow trees against the water with sunlight coming through the trees. "Up Ford River" was a prize winner.

Mrs. Clara Mosenfelder, Escanaba, entered "Boats on the Escanaba Waterfront" and "Silver City Pines," erone of the U. P. Fair Queen and her Court. Dr. J. L. Clement was chairman of the Queens' contest.

Beginning with 9 a. m., registration yesterday, the Queens kept a busy schedule all day. They were guests at a noon luncheon and an evening banquet, interviewed by the judges, press and radio and appeared on the afternoon and evening grandstand shows.

In the afternoon, each queen from various parts of the Upper Peninsula, was garbed in attire representing her title. For the evening banquet and the coronation, every girl wore a formal gown for final appraising of the judges. Street clothes were worn for the afternoon luncheon and registration.

Other participating queens were Judy Ann Holmes, Ontonagon County; Martha M. Heikkinen, Baraga County; Jo-Ann Drake, Copper Country; Judy Kay Jacobson, Marquette; Gwenyth Brown, Iron Mountain-Kingsford; Carolyn M. Jones, U. P. Potato Queen; Carol Sartorelli, Iron County; Peters, Bergland.

The girls are judged on their personality, poise, charm, speaking ability and beauty.

The Queen and her court will be guests of the Fair Board for the remainder of Fair week. Miss Johnson received a bouquet of American beauty roses, gift of the Fair Board, and an orchid corsage, gift of a local flower shop.

The runners-up also were presented with corsages. Also as part of the honor, the Ironwood miss will be awarded several trips. Mrs. J. L. Clement is the official chap-

Miss Ironwood Named Peninsula Fair Queen

Miss Vivian Ann Johnson, Miss Ironwood, was chosen as the new U. P. State Fair Queen of 1953. Miss Johnson is an 18-year-old blonde and blue-eyed beauty. She was crowned by Justice of the Supreme Court Clark Adams before a large audience, as the reigning queen, Mrs. James Theut (the former Dolores Toyra) gave up her throne preceding the "True or False Quiz Show" with Eddie Dunn and the Silver Jubilee Varieties.

The Upper Peninsula sheriffs had the pleasant but difficult task of selecting the Fair Queen from 15 other beauties, each one a queen in her own right. Miss Johnson's court will be composed of the two runners-up, Bonita Jean Dolan, who represented Miss Munising, and Carol Jean Larson, who represented Miss Ford River.

Farm," of which the first received a prize.

Mrs. Alice Powers, Escanaba, shows "Mimi," a pastel portrait, "Michael," a charcoal and crayon portrait sketch, "The Mouth of the Ford River," a water color, and a combination water color and pastel entitled "Backyard." "Mimi" and "Backyard" received prizes.

John Schwalbach, Escanaba, entered several paintings, among them a portrait in oil, an oil entitled "Van Buren Street," a flower study in oil, and a water color still life. Two of these took prizes.

Junior Section Interesting

Other local artists with work in the show were Mrs. Carol Novack, Mrs. Ruth Loeffler, and Mrs. Blenda Houle, who are represented by a group of local still lifes and a portrait sketch.

There are several paintings in the show, done by beginners, both senior and junior, which indicate promise. Among them are a farm scene and a waterfront scene with evident feeling and knowledge of the subject matter.

Improvement extends to the junior section. It is apparent in quality and in preparation of the work for display. Outstanding were an interpretation of a clown's head, done in oil by Polly Perkins of Escanaba and a group of drawings by Tom Fraser of Munising. Both these young artists were among the prize winners.

KALAMAZOO MI — The Kalamazoo County Safety Council announced today that old iceboxes and refrigerators are on its condemned list for next year.

The Council said one of its prime objectives is the dismantling and destroying of unused boxes that may become death traps for children.

The action was taken after Mrs. Ethel Hale Russell reported on three tragedies that claimed 11 lives last week in old refrigerators.

Famous Doctor Visits In Escanaba Wednesday

A distinguished visitor in Escanaba this week is Dr. Arnold S. Jackson, director of the Jackson Clinic at Madison, Wis., and president-elect of the American Chapter of the International College of Surgeons.

Dr. Jackson and his wife, in Northern Michigan for a brief vacation, are guests of old friends, Dr. and Mrs. John J. Walsh, at their home, 800 Lake Shore Drive. It is their first trip to the Upper Peninsula.

In June of this year Dr. Jackson was in Europe to attend meetings and lecture at conferences of the Italian and Austrian Chapters of the International College. He left Madison June 2 and returned June 21. In that short time the noted surgeon visited six countries, Italy and Austria, Germany, France, Ireland and England, and lectured at medical centers in five.

Fosters World Peace

"The International College of Surgeons is an organization that can and does do a great deal for world peace," Dr. Jackson said.

At 9:30 a.m. on Saturday morning a Club Workshop will begin, during which club and district organization will be discussed. Matters such as programming, memberships, Regents-Alumni Scholarships, publicity, University Development Council, and district sponsored trips by key University personnel will be discussed, also. A business session will follow at which reports of officers and clubs will be received and officers for the next year will be elected.

The visitor expressed himself as much impressed with the natural beauty of Escanaba and surrounding country and predicted unlimited possibilities in its future development as a great resort center.

The show taped here Wednesday night will be broadcast over the Mutual System Friday night at 7:30, Escanaba time, and the show held this afternoon will be broadcast Friday, Aug. 28, at 7:30, Escanaba time.

The contestants were selected by lot from the ticket stubs and Dunn said that it was the first time youngsters as young as 11 years were on the program.

Most of the contestants won $15 to $20 each.

PAINESDALE — The government has agreed to buy nearly 8,000,000 pounds of copper at 32 cents a pound from the Copper Range Co. The company will dig the ore from its high-cost Champion mine at Painesdale. A qualified smelter will process the ore, the government said. The General Services Administration, which made the contract for the government, said that without the government purchase agreement at 32 cents, Copper Range couldn't afford to operate the Champion mine.

NORWAY — Paul A. Flynn, of Western Springs, Ill., has been named Norway city manager, according to announcement by Mayor Joseph N. Flynn, who will take over his new duties on Oct. 1, will replace Calvin Lakin, city manager here since 1951 and who resigned to accept a similar position in Mexico, Mo.

The training sessions will continue through Friday and those attending from here are as follows:

Mrs. Nancy Thomas, librarian, and Mrs. Kenneth Jensen, children's librarian, Carnegie Public Library; Charles Folio, library board trustee; and Samuel Molod, library consultant for the Upper Peninsula.

The waterfront pictures—"Pictures of the Day" to be given special attention on Friday in the fine arts section of the Fair are both from Escanaba's waterfront. Boats on the Escanaba waterfront was painted in the area west of the municipal dock by Mrs. Clara Mosenfelder of Escanaba. For "Escanaba Waterfront" the artist, Mrs. Betty Sweany of Powers, found her subject matter on the other side of Sand Point—it was painted from just west of the beach house, looking toward the new water plant.

Report $72,107 Utilities Profit

City Manager A. V. Aronson reported profits of the city utilities as $72,107.40 for the quarterly period of April, May and June and last night was authorized by City Council to transfer that sum to the general fund.

Electric utility profits were reported at $50,568.74, gas utility at $27.33, water utility at $19,598.54, and steam utility at $1,912.79.

The city manager explained that over $10,000 in water utility profits were in interest to the city from the investment of unexpended water plant construction funds in U. S. government bonds.

Council also gave first reading to an amendment to the appropriation ordinance which will permit the transfer of $13,000 to the fire department budget toward financing the purchase of a new fire truck. There is already $8,000 in the truck purchase fund.

In other business the Council granted Ronald Koth permission to install two 20-foot driveways on N. 22nd St., as entranceways to his drive-in restaurant.

Harry Leisner, 1825 Ludington, received an adjustment on his gas utility bill when he appealed before the Council. The city billed Leisner for $152.45 total on estimated consumption of gas after the meter was found to be faulty. Leisner objected and the Council settled in offering to accept $115.

The Council requested a report from the city manager on proposed changes in billing methods in the office of the city treasurer; and received from Robert Clayton, superintendent of parks and forestry that the city has 65 park benches, 27 tables, and proposes to construct more.

Fire Tragedy Requires Generous Assistance of Escanaba People

FIRE struck savagely at an Escanaba family yesterday and within an hour the family's household furnishings, personal effects and clothing for the parents and seven children were wiped out.

This is tragedy, grim tragedy right at home. Imagine if you can your plight if such an unfortunate development struck you.

The need for assistance is urgent. There are seven children in this family, ranging in ages from seven to one. They escaped from their burning home only with their night clothing. Everything else was destroyed.

The people of Escanaba traditionally have been generous in their relief to stricken people throughout the world. We have contributed money and clothing to disaster areas in Europe, Asia, India and to many places on the American continent visited by hurricanes, floods and earthquakes.

Here is a situation among our own neighbors requiring our aid. The need calls

Natural Law Of Supply And Demand

MANY a scholarly article has been written describing the workings of the supply and demand system. But you needn't be an economist to understand the salient feature of the system as it effects the consumer. Under it, the price of any commodity in the free market tends to rise when supply is short, while the price tends to decline when supply is heavy.

Beef provides us with an excellent practical example of what happens. A year or so ago a combination of factors—the government's misguided arbitrary controls being one of the foremost—caused the supply of beef to be insufficient to meet the demand. As a result, prices for the popular beef cuts ran at high levels.

Since then, the situation has virtually reversed itself. Controls are a thing of the past. The nation's cattle population recently reached an all-time high of nearly 94,000,000 head—a jump of 22 per cent since 1949. Inevitably, marketing of beef animals were heavily increased and beef cuts of all kinds came into abundant supply. As a consequence, retail beef prices have been running some 20 per cent under last year's levels.

As time goes on, beef prices like all other prices will go through more up and down cycles, depending on the supply—demand situation of the moment. The prices, in other words, aren't "fixed" by human judgement or decision. They are established by natural law.

WHO LOST?

(Christian Science Monitor)

The grim game of asking "Who lost the Korean war?" goes on. The Reds, of course, say the "western imperialist warmongers" and their "South Korean puppets" lost. So do some Americans.

But a former Red Army officer, Leon Volkov, writing in Newsweek magazine, makes the most succinct answer to this claim we have seen:

Moscow ordered the North Korean Army to seize South Korea . . . But the invasion failed.

The Soviets, he adds, sent generals and officer-instructors, tanks, weapons, and aircraft to insure the venture's success—as they did in the Spanish civil war of 1936-39, where they likewise failed of their purpose. No amount of propaganda then could hide that failure from the Russian people nor, he adds, can it now.

Except, of course, as it is able to quote prominent Americans to support its claims of a glorious victory.

The Doctor Says . . .
Watch Child For Overweight
If There's Diabetes In Family

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D. — Written for NEA Service

A question received from Mrs. Q. raises a rather complicated question concerning diabetes. She writes: "I have been told that if a parent has diabetes, the child or children would have diabetes also, especially if one of the parents has to receive insulin. My husband was taking insulin when we married and still is. Now we have a son two years old who seems perfectly normal. Will he have diabetes, too? Is it an inherited disease or can it be obtained only through one's diet?"

In reply to this question, it is generally considered that diabetes is an inherited disease; a family history of diabetes can be obtained in about one-quarter of all those who know to have it.

However, the way in which diabetes is inherited probably means that on the average only about one child in four would have diabetes if one parent has the disease and the other is not carrying any tendency in that direction. If both parents have diabetes, one might expect all the children to have it also, though this is not always borne out by experience.

The question of taking insulin probably does not enter in, and quite likely there is no more chance of a child becoming diabetic if the parent is taking insulin or if he is not. Mrs. Q.'s son should be examined from time to time, but it will do no good to worry about his chances of developing diabetes.

There are other things besides heredity which enter into the development of diabetes. Most important from the practical standpoint is that overweight greatly increases the chances of developing diabetes.

Another factor which has to do with the development of diabetes is so-called "nerve strain." The frequency of the disease is highest among persons who are under tension in their work, but perhaps this factor in the development of diabetes is overshadowed by the fact that most such people tend to overweight and come from sedentary walks or life.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Ohio's status quo Senator John Bricker ordered it suppressed before even reading it, but a confidential report on cancer has been sent to his desk highly critical of the American Medical Association for attempting to suppress a new drug which helps to relieve cancer.

This blistering report was prepared under the direction of the late Senator Tobey as chairman of the senate interstate and foreign commerce committee and was submitted to Bricker, the new chairman, by the investigator appointed by Tobey.

The report charges: 1, That "the AMA has been hasty, capricious, arbitrary, and outright dishonest" in its opposition to the cancer drug, krebiozen; 2, that AMA's treasurer, Dr. J. J. Moore, "attempted to get the distribution rights" for krebiozen for two Chicago businessmen, and, after failing in this, "he embarked upon a course to ruin . . . the drug"; and 3, that "public and private funds have been thrown around like confetti at a country fair to close up and destroy clinics, hospitals, and scientific research laboratories which do not conform to the viewpoint of medical associations."

Finally the report suggests that "the machinations of Dr. J. J. Moore could well involve the AMA and others in an interstate conspiracy of alarming proportions."

These shocking charges are based upon the investigation of senate agent Benedict Fitzgerald, who was given a secret assignment by the late Senator Tobey to investigate alleged AMA hamstringing of cancer research. The probe was kept secret because Tobey feared the powerful doctors' lobby which last year was listed as the No. 2 lobbyist in Washington. The lobby spent $309,514.93 last year to influence congress, making it second only to the electric power lobby.

BRICKER SAYS NO

After Tobey's death, Bricker, who replaced him on the Interstate Commerce Committee, promptly ordered the investigation stopped. He refused to do so much as see Fitzgerald, though the investigator offered to fly to Ohio at his own expense for an interview. Instead, Bricker's office ordered Fitzgerald to "forget" the whole thing, and above all, not to talk to the press. If he followed these instructions, Fitzgerald was told, he would be "taken care of."

However, Fitzgerald wrote a sharp letter to Bricker, saying he was "surprised and even shocked" at the runaround. He then sent copies of both the letter and his report to every senator on the committee.

Irony is that Bricker's own senate partner, the late Bob Taft, was killed by cancer.

Tobey, on his own deathbed, sent Fitzgerald to New York with some krebiozen for Taft. However, the doctors refused to use it, citing the opposition of the AMA.

Fitzgerald's report does not claim that krebiozen is a cure for cancer. It simply sets forth the results of the research so far, adding: "The heavy toll of life being taken by cancer requires a searching investigation."

DIFFERENCE BETWEEN DOCTORS

In particular, the report cites the findings of Dr. Andrew C. Ivy, vice president of the University of Illinois medical school, who directed medical research for the Navy during World War II and discovered a chemical to make sea water drinkable and an ointment to protect the skin against extreme heat and cold. He has also made other important medical discoveries, such as enteroagastre for treating peptic ulcers. Dr. Ivy is so respected in medical circles that he was also called upon to evaluate cancer therapy for the American Cancer Society and expose quack treatments.

In the case of krebiozen, however, Dr. Ivy did not find that it was a "quack" drug. He tested it first on animals to make sure it was nontoxic. Then he tried it out on cancer patients.

"On the conclusion of his preliminary study," the Fitzgerald report states, "he issued a statement that 70 per cent of the cancer patients receiving krebiozen derived benefits from the new drug ranging from relief of pain to complete healing. A 1,000-page compilation prepared by him, supplemented by laboratory records, gives case histories on 500 patients treated by 232 doctors in 150 clinics and hospitals throughout the country."

Though Dr. Ivy had once served on its board, the AMA promptly censured him and expelled him for three months from the Chicago Medical Society. Because of the controversy, he also took a leave of absence from the University of Illinois and was prevented from continuing his research there.

Note 1—Senator Bricker's office, when queried, stated flatly that Bricker intended to do nothing about the cancer report. Asked whether Bricker had read the report, the reply was "no."

Note 2—Many doctors disagree vigorously with the American Medical Association, feel that it has gone too far in engaging in politics.

Another good example of our talent for taking old-world names and recasting them into pronunciations distinctively American is Rio Grande, which is REE-oh-GRAHN-day in Spain and Mexico, but plain old RYOH-grand in Ohio. And, of course, Cairo which is KY-roh in Egypt but KAY-roh in Illinois.

Soldiers Of Peace Face Big Task In Rebuilding Of Korea

By FRED SPARKS

MASOKU-RI, Korea—(NEA)—Ike has spoken: South Korea, so badly wounded by communism, is to be rebuilt with our help into an Oriental show-window for the Free World.

In an historic military "about face" the Commander-in-Chief orders the 8th Army, conceived for destruction, to turn its engineering and medical know-how to reconstruction.

On the human level this means the combat engineer who a thin time ago was tooling a pontoon bridge as bullets splashed the river will now erect a new school; the medical corps will supervise new hospitals.

To understand what faces our soldiers-of-peace, I jeeped from Seoul to Masoku-ri, sitting in a pine-fringed valley 10 miles north. From surrounding hills the wet rice paddies sparkle in the sun like acres of diamonds.

The MSR (Main Supply Route to the Truce Front), lined with tin cans and drippings of war, cuts through Masoku-ri and small boys paid by shop-keepers sprinkle the dirt road to keep the dust down.

We shed our shoes to enter the well brushed home of Headman Yon Chong Won. Walls slide open making every room an August porch. Wearing shorts below his knees like pedal pushers, Yon jack-knife-bows us welcome in his bare feet.

School in this warmth is under a spreading nut tree; in winter in a cave. Two school-boys are with U. S. units as "house boy mascots" and they ship home goodies.

Half the town seems partly clothed in GI duds acquired when an artillery outfit billeted nearby. Women with timeless flowing white robes clop-clop along in infantry boots big enough for a heavyweight wrestler.

There were exactly three party-line punks in Masoku-ri; they cleverly mingled with Red armies retreating north. If they visited town today their own families would hang them up like the dried fish in the local general store; Masoku-ri is fiercely pro-American, pro-Rhee.

The young women of Masoku-ri face endless spinsterhood what with the dead boys and the 60 still serving in the ROK Army.

We walked through paddies, rich this year with a fat rice harvest, and saw the farmers bent over like question marks hand-scooping out silt and weeds. Mao's mobsters stole almost every tool and locals say: "For one shovel gone we need three more pairs of hands."

In the evenings the old wise men and their women squat in front of a store selling rubber slippers, the national footwear.

The men smoke cigarettes in foot-long holders, the women suck pipes. On nearby trees fresh signs advertise: "Forest Loving Week."

They talk about tomorrow, a cloudy fear, and nod in agreement as Yon Chong Won says: "The Communists are 20 miles away. Who can say they will not come again?"

HEAD MAN of Masoku-ri, Yon Chong Won, can't forget that Reds are only 20 miles away.

An electric bus ran into a store front in a Michigan town. The heat is enough to get anybody off their trolley.

Good Evening...

THE TOURIST—The younger generation will read this column with amusement and the older folks with a touch of nostalgia.

For it has to do with a period to be counted as fairly ancient history, according to the way time passes so swiftly in that past few decades.

The year 1920 was one of boom times. People were listening to Amos 'n Andy on the radio, the Charleston was a popular dance, automobiles were coming into widespread use and touring was becoming a national habit.

Thirty-three years ago the Upper Peninsula was not, however, notable for its good roads. Principal roads were graveled—but there were few hard-surface roads that extended beyond the settled farm areas.

Making a long trip was quite an adventure. In winter the autos were placed on blocks in the garage. The era of snow-plowing the highways was yet to come.

HIGHWAY GUIDE—When folks made a longer-than-usual motoring trip in those days (and any trip over 50 miles was considered lengthy) they inquired about the condition of the roads and the "best" route.

This is evidenced in a letter written to James T. Jones, Gladstone businessman, by Acting District Engineer Davies of the state highway department office in Escanaba. The letter, dated June 15, 1920, follows:

Dear Sir:

Your letter to Mr. Mason in regard to driving to St. Ignace has been referred to me inasmuch as he was not familiar with the road beyond Manistique.

I think the best way to go is as follows:

From Gladstone to Rapid River, Nahma Junction, across the sand plains to Isabella, over St. Jacques Bluff, the entrance to which is several miles north of Garden, across the plains to the road one mile east of Cooks; thence north and east to Manistique. From Manistique to Whitehead, north through Blaney to Germfask, east and north from Germfask to Newberry; thence south and east through Hendricks Quarry to Garnet, Rexton, Caffey; thence running southerly across sand plains to Eupoufete; thence east and south through Moran and Allenville to St. Ignace.

Hoping this is some assistance to you, I am

Very truly yours,

H. N. Davies

Note: Mr. Jones "pigeon holed" the letter for years, found it again earlier this month and sent it to William J. Karas, superintendent-engineer of the Delta County Road Commission. "Things have really changed," Jones notes in forwarding it to Karas.

NO ROUTE MARKERS—Davies' letter is most interesting, for it indicates the complete absence of route markers in those days.

There was no US-2. You went from here to there, over a bluff, across the sand plains. Gas stations were few and far between and you had really gotten around before you reached your destination.

And there was always the possibility of motor trouble somewhere along those miles of sand plains, without a garage in sight. High pressure tires out only made for hard riding but frequent blowouts, and old-fashioned rims made tire repair anything but pleasure.

Kinsey Report Bares Sex Life of Females

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter
BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — The new Kinsey report released today finds women stay young longer than men in sex activity.

Human sex lives it also finds, are as different as fingerprints.

The only basic sex difference between men and women is mental or psychological, the female book says. Most women—with some surprising exceptions—aren't aroused as often as men by sights, talk, or anticipation of sex.

Most women need steady physical contact to achieve sex satisfaction.

Sharp Change In 20s

As many persons suspected, it finds the roaring 20s really brought a sharp change in American women's sex lives. They changed toward less frigidity in marriage, and more experience and freedom before marriage.

Dr. Alfred C. Kinsey authorized publication today of the scientific findings in his long-awaited second book, "Sexual Behavior in the Human Female."

It is more than just statistics or candid confessions of what women do. By comparing men and women, it offers keys for happier marriages and sounder sex laws. Five unusual chapters tell the full science of sex.

Some main findings are: Ten per cent of wives remain frigid, never experiencing a sexual climax. So do 28 per cent of older single women.

Little Decline In Age

One in four wives—26 per cent or more—at some time commits adultery, whereas about half of all husbands ultimately have extramarital affairs. Some husbands encourage wives to do so.

About half of all women have sex relations before marriage, about half of them just with fiancés. Only about two-thirds ever reach a climax in these pre-marital relations.

Most women reach a peak of sexual activities about the age 27 or 28. Once they reach it—it can be earlier or later than that—they usually maintain a steady level of activity until their 40s or 60s, with little decline from aging.

But most men reach a peak of activity in their late 'teens, then steadily decline with age. The male peak is most often far higher than women's, so that male activity remains higher throughout life than the activity of most females.

But the fact is most men are growing old in sexual capacity when their wives are becoming more interested and less inhibited in sex.

Easily Distracted

Of 33 kinds of psychological arousals toward sex, only three stimulated higher percentages of women than men. These three were seeing romantic movies, reading romantic literature, and being bitten. Men are usually more aroused by nude pictures, thoughts of sex, or other reminders.

A third of women are not aroused at all by any psychosexual stimuli. But two to three per cent are far more aroused than any man.

Trouble often comes when men expect women to react psychologically as men do. Men often fail to realize that women are more easily distracted from sex noises or interruptions. The ease of male mental arousal accounts for husbands' wanting more frequent sexual contact, and men's difficulty in getting along without it.

At marriage, about one-third of women have never had a sexual climax, through any method. But almost 100 per cent of men have.

The woman who experiences a climax before marriage, by any method, has a two to three times better chance of achieving sexual success earlier in marriage. Kinsey says the meaning of this must be studied.

Greater Extremes

No two persons are exactly alike in their sex lives, none fits entirely into all the averages Kinsey has yet found.

Women show greater extremes in sex than do men. While some remain frigid, 14 per cent regularly have multiple climaxes during one sex act. One woman can give herself 100 climaxes an hour. One woman of 90 is still having regular sexual experience.

Women sense this greater variation, and so hesitate to discuss their sex lives with other women. This lack of comparing notes is often a reason for women's ignorance about sex.

Parents in the 20s, the time of the big change, were right in complaining about wildness of the younger generation. Since then there's been little change, and less criticism from parents because the parents had done the same things themselves.

The change in the 20s has reduced frigidity in marriage by one-third to one-half what it was among wives born before 1900.

After castration, many men, made eunuchs, and almost all women can still have sex relations.

Females do not develop earlier sexually than males. It is a mystery why adolescent girls are slower than boys to develop in sexual responsiveness.

There is no physical reason why women may be slower than men to reach a sexual climax. The average female is not slower if she is sufficiently stimulated physically, is not inhibited, and if effective techniques are used.

Interviews With 5,940

Fifteen years in preparation, the

ESCANABA DAILY PRESS
Thursday, August 20, 1953 — 5

new 842 page book will be published Sept. 14. W. B. Saunders Co., Philadelphia, $8.00.

More readable than the male book published five years ago, the new report is authored by all 14 members of the staff of the Institute for Sex Research, Inc., at Indiana University. Main co-authors with Dr. Kinsey are Drs. Wardell B. Pomeroy, Clyde E. Martin and Paul H. Gebhard.

The female report draws on interviews with 5,940 females aged 12 to 90, of various religions, education and occupations.

It also draws upon the institute's 16,000-volume sex library.

Despite its title, Dr. Kinsey says the book does not pretend to report sex behavior of all American women, much less women throughout the world.

Clouded By Ignorance
It has some limitations in geographical representation, but Dr. Kinsey says the findings are probably typical of many American females.

The purpose—as with other studies—is to learn scientific facts about a field of human activity long clouded by ignorance, Dr. Kinsey explains. He holds that before sexual behavior can be understood, or any phases of it more intelligently controlled, it must first be learned what people actually do.

Other Findings:
The decree of school education has less effect on sex behavior of women than men. Pre-marital relations were more common among girls who had gone to college and high school than among those of grade school education only. The opposite was true of men.

The "double standard" is becoming more of a single standard due to greater pre-marriage experiences of modern women.

Fewer women than men are homosexuals. Better educated women are more likely to be homosexual. Giving sexual hormones to homosexuals does not make them less homosexual.

Many Break Laws
It is untrue and harmful to many women to say that most women do not enjoy sex.

The church, home, and school

are the chief sources of sexual inhibitions, the distaste for all aspects of sex, the fears of physical difficulties which may be involved in sexual relations, and the feelings of guilt which many females carry with them into their marriages."

Laws and customs: 85-per cent of women and 95 per cent of men are the chief sources of sexual inhibitions, the distaste for all aspects of sex, the fears of physical difficulties which may be involved in sexual relations, and the feelings of guilt which many females carry with them into their marriages."

Decision Today On Eligibility Of Two Athletes

LANSING — The executive committee of the Michigan High School Athletic Association adjourned at one p. m. today after hearing the Escanaba case involving the eligibility of David Hirn, St. Joseph athlete, and William LeMire Jr., Escanaba High School athlete.

No decision was immediately available but the committee indicated a decision would be made this afternoon.

The ineligible of the two Escanaba boys grew out of the acceptance of merchandise awards by the athletes in participating in the Upper Peninsula Junior golf tournament at Escanaba.

Decision Today

The meeting was conducted by Charles H. Semler, principal of Benton Harbor High School and president of the MHSAA. Other members of the committee who attended were George Mead, of the Detroit Public Schools; Earl C. Messner, principal of Central High School, Bay City, and Samuel Madden, director of physical education for the Catholic archdiocese of Detroit.

Charles E. Forsythe, director of the MHSAA, reviewed the facts in the case.

The case on behalf of the athletes was presented by George Ruwitz, assistant superintendent of Escanaba High School; Karl Dickson of the Escanaba Junior Chamber of Commerce; and James G. Ward Jr., manager of the Escanaba Press. The J-Cs and Press were co-sponsors of the tournament.

The sponsors accepted responsibility for unintentionally giving the boys erroneous information concerning the eligibility rules and stressed that the boys were not at fault.

State Fair Fish Stunt Illegal?

Mobs Catch Iran Premier; Fighting Rages In Streets

DETROIT — The attorney general's office has been asked to decide whether fishermen who try their luck at the Michigan State Fair next month would be violating state gambling laws.

The 1953 fair offers a giant trout pond in which fishermen can dip their flies for 12 minutes by paying 50 cents. Any trout they catch is theirs.

The Michigan Conservation Department agreed to supply "wild" trout ranging from 10 to 20 inches for the 10-day operation beginning Sept. 4.

The trout pond is the 440-foot lagoon in the middle of the fairgrounds. It will be landscaped to make it look like real trout territory.

However, carnival operators, smarting because their games have been banned under a recent gambling crackdown ordered by Attorney General Frank Millard, are wondering whether the fishing will be legal.

As one put it: "We have fish pond games where you pick up a duck and look at the number on the bottom and maybe win a prize. They say that is illegal this summer. Now if the fish in that trout pond were dead, it certainly would be against the gambling law to try to hook a big one."

"What's the difference if they are alive?"

James M. Hare, fair general manager, asked for the attorney general's opinion although he believes fishing is fishing no matter where it is done.

The 34-year-old Shah called from Rome for the Iranian people to obey the Zahedi government and announced he would return promptly. He planned to leave Italy on a chartered Dutch airliner tonight for Baghdad, capital of Iraq, so he could fly to Tehran in the same personal plane in which he escaped from Mossadegh Sunday.

"What's the difference if they are alive?"

James M. Hare, fair general manager, asked for the attorney general's opinion although he believes fishing is fishing no matter where it is done.

THOSE IN UNIFORM

Buried Alive

HILLSDALE — Jack Coles, 15, of Allen was buried alive Wednesday under an avalanche of dirt and stone. The roof of a hole fell in on him after he had crawled in. He died before he could be uncovered.

Wall Street

NEW YORK — Railroads provided the chief prop today for a slightly higher stock market.

In significant areas, gains ran into the major fractions while losses went to around a point. Plus signs, however, held a numerical edge.

Trading was relatively light with the rate well under Wednesday's 1,400,000 shares.

Aircrafts, chemicals and utilities lined up with the rails in the move ahead. Oils and coppers lagged. Other sections such as steels and motors held fairly steady.

Higher stocks included Southern Railway, New York Central, Consolidated Natural Gas, Allied Chemical, American Tobacco, Chrysler, and Boeing.

Lower were Texas Co., Johns-Manville, American Smelting, and General Electric.

U. S. government bonds were steady.

Police Hunt Escaper In Pontiac Slaying

PONTIAC — A statewide alert was ordered today for an escapee from the State Hospital for the Criminally Insane at Ionia, in connection with the rape-slaying of Mrs. Hally Perkins.

Thomas Martinelli, 20, of Detroit, escaped from the Ionia hospital Aug. 1. A few days later the body of Mrs. Perkins, 57, was found in a weed-covered lot on the outskirts of Pontiac.

Police said Martinelli's general description tallied with that of a burly 200-pounder who assaulted a 16-year-old girl last Saturday two blocks from where Mrs. Perkins body was found.

Both crimes were believed committed by the same man.

Meanwhile, a check began of 500 known Pontiac area sex deviates.

Sultan Of Morocco Ousted From Throne; Palace Surrounded

PARIS — A French news agency dispatch from Rabat said the Sultan of Morocco has been removed from his throne.

The dispatch said an announcement of the removal came just as Gen. Augustin Guillaume, the French resident general, had gone into the palace of Sultan Sidi Mohammed Ben Yousef. The palace was surrounded by 30 French tanks and other armored vehicles.

The French said the Sultan would be taken away from Rabat, the capital of the North African protectorate.

Dickinson-Menominee Exhibitors Take Top Agriculture Honors

Exhibitors from Dickinson and Menominee counties took up honors in the agriculture department of the Upper Peninsula State Fair by placing high in many of the 16 classes.

Nearly 450 individual exhibits have been entered in the competition this year. The grain entries are not as numerous this year but all other classes compared favorably to exhibitions of past years according to Mel Nyquist, Superintendent of the department.

Nyquist said that some classes will be eliminated in the future because of the lack of interest and the small number of entries in these classes.

A total of $571.25 in premiums was offered for the winning exhibits of the agricultural department.

Bogus Perfume Racket Nipped

MIDDLETON, R. I. (AP)—A still for making fake perfume for use in bottles with the counterfeit labels of several of the leading perfumeries of the world was uncovered Tuesday by federal agents.

The raid was carried out by Special Investigator Joseph E. Lannon of the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Unit of the Internal Revenue Bureau and Inspector John J. Hanagan of the Food and Drug Control Administration.

Lannon said that in addition to a 15-gallon still they also seized a large quantity of perfume bottles, some filled and some empty but all carrying the counterfeit labels of expensive perfumes.

Lannon said also the counterfeit perfumes had been sold "for as much as $10 an ounce."

A federal warrant was sworn out after the raid against Robert Goldman, 52, last reported in Detroit. The warrant charged Goldman with operation of an unregistered still.

Lannon said alcohol was mixed with colorings and extracts and run through the still to produce fake essences.

Sheep Exhibit Small But Of Good Quality

The raising of sheep in Upper Michigan, while gaining in favor, is still regarded as a sideline with most farmers. This is reflected in the comparatively small number of sheep on display at the Upper Michigan State Fair now in progress.

Particularly noteworthy, considering the small number of entries, is the wide variety of breeds. Interest centers particularly in the showing by Frank Barron of Flat Rock, of several individuals from a flock he purchased in New Zealand about a year ago. These sheep, of a general purpose type are heavy of fleece and rangy in build. One of the rams shown is of particularly impressive size. Several spring lambs are also being shown with this entry.

Two other exhibitors from this area are Frank and Marion Schaffer of Brantford, who entered several of the Shropshire sheep.

Several pens are used to show the several breeds exhibited by Dr. O. O. Mater, of Nashville. His exhibit included the following breeds: black top, delaine, corrales, columbias and suffolk. He exhibited here last year.

Sentence Delivered By Sign Language

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—"This defendant is deaf and dumb, your honor," the arresting officer told Traffic Judge Jim Demopoulos.

Judge Demopoulos, who speaks a smattering of several languages, promptly asked the man, in labored sign language:

"Guilty or not guilty?"

Grinning at the judge's efforts, the defendant fingered back, "What does the officer say I did?"

Apprised of the charge of running a red light and the $10 fine, he pleaded guilty, paid the fine and flashed Demopoulos a parting "Thank you" as he walked out of the courtroom.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Tousignant and daughters Shirley, Elaine and Karen and Allen Barren, of Flat Rock, visited Kitch-iti-ki-ki Spring, near Manistique Sunday.

Lorraine Hillock of Chicago is spending her summer vacation with her aunt, Mrs. Joseph Bartosz.

Evacuation Favored

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Civil Defense Administration is reported leaning toward the idea a city had best be evacuated of its inhabitants if there is warning of a bombing raid.

But officials said Tuesday no decision had been reached, while discussions as to evacuation rather than taking shelter are still going on.

Pontiac Broker And $12,661 Gone

PONTIAC (AP)—The search for a 53-year-old Pontiac broker charged with a $12,661 embezzlement shifted from the waters of Lake Michigan near Manistee to ferry ticket office Wednesday.

Police widened their hunt for Eugene Arthur Parmeister, who sent his wife a suicide note in which he revealed his plan to drown himself.

Parmeister's photograph was distributed to ticket offices of ferries crossing Lake Michigan at Frankfort, Ludington and Muskegon.

After dragging of the Manistee River near Lake Michigan proved futile, State Police Detective Clarence Bloomquist said:

"It seems to me he must be somewhere else."

Parmeister disappeared Friday after flying from Pontiac, where he was manager of a brokerage firm. A warrant issued Tuesday by the Oakland County prosecutor's office charged him with larceny by conversion.

He was accused of using stock certificates owned by clients as collateral for loans.

Parmeister lived with his wife, Clara May, in the fashionable Wing Lake subdivision near Birmingham. He owned an expensive home, a $12,000 plane, two station wagons, another automobile and a summer home near Frankfort.

French Speleologists Hauled Out Of Cave 2,395 Feet In Ground

PIERRE ST. MARTIN, France (AP)—Wire cables hauled to safety the remaining two of three cave explorers who went deeper into the earth than man ever has before—2,395 feet.

The speleologists (cave explorers) hauled out were Robert Levi and Norbert Casteret. Their colleague, Dr. Andre Mairey, was pulled up Tuesday night from the St. Martin Cave here in the Pyrenees Mountains of Southwestern France.

The cave reputedly is the earth's greatest land fissure. One man was killed in a similar exploit last year when the cable snapped as he was being brought to the surface.

The three were members of an expedition seeking to determine possibility of an underground hydroelectric plant.

Wife Must Pay

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A judge has given the estranged wife of actor John Wayne just 10 days to pay up a $2,082 grocery and liquor bill.

Mrs. Esperanza Wayne had testified during a two-day trial that she was unable to meet her household expenses from the $1,100 monthly that Wayne is paying her.

Municipal Judge Charles B. McCoy Tuesday awarded Sales Markets, Inc., of Encino, judgment for the $2,082 plus interest from last June 17 and costs of her suit.

Michigan Cigarette Tax Law Illegal, Says Monroe Judge

MONROE (AP)—Circuit Judge Clayton ruled that the Michigan law regulating the tax on cigarettes against Angelo Loricchio, 30, a Detroit restaurant operator.

Loricchio was arrested Jan. 1, 1952, at a weigh station near Monroe when a state weighmaster found he was driving a $23,000 truckload of untaxed cigarettes.

Golden granted a motion to dismiss the case on grounds of illegal search and seizure.

He said the state employee's authority was limited to weight cases.

The judge granted Prosecutor Robert N. Sawyer's request for a 20-day stay to give Atty. Gen. Frank G. Millard's office time for an appeal.

Golden's ruling was similar to a decision by Circuit Judge Chester P. O'Hara of St. Joseph last June.

Government Housing Construction Curbed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government is under orders not to take on more new tenants than it must and in general to be an economical landlord.

The Budget Bureau Tuesday made public new policies on future construction of government housing for military personnel and other employees.

Government construction is to be used only where the job requires it or adequate privately owned quarters are not available.

Piggy Bank Breaks

TECUMSEH, Okla. (AP)—Mrs. Nelda Merle McCaulley, 22, of Norman, lost control of her car and overturned with three children in a ditch Tuesday, but the only casualty was a piggy bank.

It burst open and scattered silver dollars all over the highway. Highway Patrolman C. A. Morris said it took him two hours to retrieve the coins.

Captivating Character Is Photographer Pappy

By RELMAN MORIN
(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP)—In reading one of Frank Noel's stories of life in a Chinese prison camp the other day, I was struck by a particular line. He had written—

"I went down to Hamhung to get some film, but I was in a hurry to get back to the front because the best pictures were there."

Held For 32 Months

Frank, or "Pappy" as we called him, is a newsphotographer. The Chinese grabbed him in that bleak and anxious winter of 1950 when the dam went bust in Korea. Now, 32 months and several lifetimes later, he has been sprung. His memoirs make fascinating reading.

As you may know, there is an eternal debate in this ink-stained trade of ours over the question: Are photographers people?

Personally, I think they are, although there are many points that have to be conceded to the opposite side of the argument. The important fact is, I suppose, that a news photographer sees the world exclusively through that square wire finder on his camera.

And, for him, is the only true and valid world. He lives there. Few things that happen outside are likely to merit his serious attention.

Up With The Kids

Came the terrible days when the roof fell in around the center of the line in Korea.

The Marines obviously were in a bad spot, with a collapsed flank and the Chinese pouring toward the rear.

Pappy could have come out then, before the roads were completely closed. But the last time he was on the telephone, he said he was going to stay. "I feel better up with the kids," he said. He was all of 45 himself at that time.

Then, for a week, we heard no more. We talked over all the angles and possibilities, the way you do when you are trying to find some good in a bad situation. Finally, somebody said,

"Well, don't forget Pappy is a photographer. He'll stay alive just to keep from missing a picture."

That's the way they are, those characters.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS WASTE

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Joyce Lymangrover bought his children a horse Tuesday, and one of his sons killed the other accidentally in an argument over which should get the first ride.

Coroner Joseph S. Stratigos said 13-year-old Michael was struck on the head and injured fatally by a pair of pliers thrown by 10-year-old Patrick. He said Michael had first thrown the pliers at the younger boy.

The coroner ruled the death accidental.

Detroiter Wins Medal Of Honor

DETROIT (AP)—A slim, bearded Detroit clerk who walks with a slight limp is Michigan's sixth Korean War veteran to win the coveted Congressional Medal of Honor.

No one knew that Robert E. Simanek, a 23-year-old General Motors clerical worker was a hero of the bitter and often heart breaking battles of the now-ended Korean War until a Marine Corps announced Tuesday. Even Simanek's parents and friends were amazed.

The official announcement said the quiet young man will receive the nation's highest military honor for flinging himself on a grenade, absorbing the explosion with his body and thereby saving the lives of other Marines.

The heroic action took place while Simanek, son of a gasoline station operator, was on patrol just a year and two days ago.

Hospitalized with severe leg and thigh wounds in Japan and the naval hospital at Great Lakes, Simanek was discharged last March.

Even his mother, Mrs. Edward Simanek, exclaimed, "My Bob did what?" when told of the news.

It seemed that the medal winner never talked about it because "I was with really brave guys who did a lot more than I did."

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.

Counties Present Home Extension Lessons At Fair

Among the outstanding exhibits at the U. P. State Fair this year are those prepared by the women of each county who have been taking part in the home extension courses offered during the past year by the Co-operative Extension Service of Michigan State College.

Each exhibit is sponsored by a different county and represents one lesson which has been taught in that county during the year.

Dickinson County uses "Togs for Tots from Makeovers" as the theme of its display. It shows two youngsters dressed in clothing which has been made over from other costumes.

"Conserve Energy"

Little wire dolls are used by Delta County to demonstrate on how to "Conserve that Human Spark—Energy." The little dolls represent every working hour and how to rest while working.

One of the most attractive exhibits is the Chippewa County demonstration. It tells how to sew clothes and save. The various steps in dressmaking are very clearly patterned.

The theme, "Your Clothes and You," is used by three different counties, all displaying different phases of the lesson. Marquette County tells what accessories should be used with a basic costume, and also shows the color relationship between various clothes. The correct outfit to be worn by women, complete from head to toe, is compared to another outfit which is all wrong by Houghton County. This display shows the relationship between the right way of dressing and the wrong way.

Buyer's Approach

Gogebic County also uses the same theme with the approach of the buyer. It tells what a wise buyer should check when buying clothing, such as, the texture, whether it will shrink, the way it is put together and many others which should be noticed by the buyer.

Mackinac County has a very interesting display on "Making Modern Lampshades." This display shows all three steps which must be used to create the finished product.

While Luce County demonstrates the different methods of using color in the home, Schoolcraft County exhibits the different ways of arranging flowers in the home.

This exhibit is arranged on the second floor of the Exhibition Building.

More Comfort Wearing FALSE TEETH

Here is a pleasant way to overcome loose plate discomfort. FALSE TEETH, an improved powder, sprinkled on upper and lower plates holds them firmer so that they do not slip or move. It's a gummy, goaty, pasty taste or feeling. It's alkaline (non-acid). Does not sour. Checks "play" odor" (denture breath). FASTEETH today at any drug store.

Fair Dairy Exhibits Represent Business Worth 40 Millions

Coming from all sections of the Upper Peninsula, dairy products at the Upper Peninsula State Fair represent firms doing $40,000,000 worth of business annually, it is estimated by Mason Smith of Marquette, Michigan Department of Agriculture representative who is superintendent of the butter and cheese department in the main exhibit building.

The dairy exhibits are housed in an all-new booth this year, located in the same end of the building as before, but shifted to the corner of the building. The new booth is equipped with thermopane glass, which does away with the old trouble of clouded glass in front of the exhibits, and it also has a better refrigeration system than the former booth, keeping butter and cheese at their proper steady temperatures.

There are about 800 pounds of cheddar cheese on display and 200 pounds of Italian cheese, along with 175 or more pounds of butter. Joseph Jensen of Michigan State College, Lansing, is the dairy products judge.

In the dairy booth are long-horns, twins, daisies and cheddars in the American cheese entries, and a half-dozen varieties of tasty Italian cheese, including the variety that comes packed in a monster summer-sausage-style package about three feet long and five inches thick.

Three exhibitors have Italian cheese entries, from Perkins, Crystal Falls and Baltic, and there are 21 American cheese exhibitors.

Towns represented in the butter and cheese entries, which take in practically every creamery and cheese factory in the peninsula, include: Belgian town and Palestine, (near Stephenson); Pauly and Pauly factories at Engadine, Manistique, Fayette and Bark River; Stephenson Creamery, butter; Hubbell, butter; Rudyard, butter; Ironwood Co-op, butter and cheese; Ewen-Palmer, cheese; Wilson Dairy, cheese; Bruce's Crossing, butter and cheese; Watton-Covington, butter and cheese; Besemer Creamery, butter; Rudyard Co-op, butter and cheese; Pekin Co-op, butter and cheese; Iron River Creamery, butter and cheese; Pickford Creamery, butter and cheese; St. Ignace City Dairy, cheese; Rock Dairy, butter and cheese; Dollar Bay, butter and cheese.

The candlefish, or eulachon, of America's north Pacific coast is prized by Indians as food and for its oil. When dried and a wick is pulled through it, the fish will burn like a candle, says the National Geographic Society.

Fancy Cheeses Gather Ribbons

Red and blue ribbons blossomed out Wednesday against the yellow of the cheese and butter as judging was completed behind the thermopane glass of the dairy exhibit booth at the Upper Peninsula State Fair.

Cheese entries were excellent this year, the dairy products judge said, but butter was not quite up to the usual fancy quality. Winners in the butter department were: first, Vera Sutton, Besemer Creamery Co.; second, Joe Wolf, Rapid River Co-Op; third, Nels Plough, Copper Country Cheese Co., Dollar Bay.

In American cheese, the ribbons went to: Harold Gruenstern, Palestine Cheese Factory, Stephenson; second, John Kangas, Ewen Farmers Produce; third, Adolph Miller, Rapid River Co-Op. The winning entry was an aged cheese, about a year old.

Colorful Italian cheeses had close competition, with the following winners: first, Reinhardt Wallschmidt, Michigan Dairy Products, Crystal Falls, a "provolone" variety; second, Louis Vezetti, Stella Cheese Co., Crystal Falls, with a "sardo" type; third, Joseph Ghidorzi, Michigan Dairy Products, Perkins, a "romano" cheese.

Work Of Schools In Ten U. P. Cities Displayed At Fair

Many varieties of work can be found in the U. P. State Fair's school exhibits this year. The display, in which 10 Upper Peninsula cities are participating, is presented in five divisions of elementary schools, junior and senior high schools.

All entries, except those in the technical school division, are school, grade or group projects. Technical school entries are the work of individuals.

Judging of the entries was on the basis of general appearance, originality, organization, social value and scope of the field represented.

All but the technical school entries are based on language arts, social studies, mathematics, sci-

Expect 40 Teams In Horse Pulling

Eighteen of the 40 teams expected to participate in the horse pulling contests Friday and Saturday at the U. P. State Fair are early entries, reports Grey Knaus of Cornell, superintendent.

In the lightweight class, five teams have entered from Dickinson county and one team each from Marquette, Menominee and Chippewa counties.

As in the lightweight class, there are nine early entries in the heavyweight. They include a team from St. Clair County, three from Dickinson, three from Menominee and two Wisconsin teams.

The arrival of a team owned by Charles Roehl of Smith Creek in St. Clair county is expected. His lightweight team set a world record here on Aug. 17, 1951 and came within two feet of setting a new record last year.

Winning teams that set records in the Friday and Saturday contests will earn additional money.

Twenty-five dollars is offered to the team to set a new U. P. team record. Twenty-five dollars is also offered to the winning team setting a new U. P. State Fair record. The winning team setting a new world record will earn $100.

Friday's contest, for lightweights, will begin at 1:30 p. m. Saturday's heavyweight contest, starting at 10 a. m., will include only teams weighing 3,000 pounds or more.
